THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF CULTURE (SHRIMATI KANTI SINGH): (a) A fairly large number of records in the National Archives of India are in need of preservation and restoration.

This is a continuous process and fixing a reasonable time frame is not feasible. The Conservation Division of the National Archives of India involved in the chemical treatment, repair and rehabilitation of records of Govt, of India works with the given infrastructure and staff to repair damaged archival material.

The National Archives of India is making efforts to improve the annual repair rate by increasing the number of laminating machines.
